THE SENTENCE

*"One Studies This Floating
Pyramid's History Of Solar Water"*

THE PROCESS

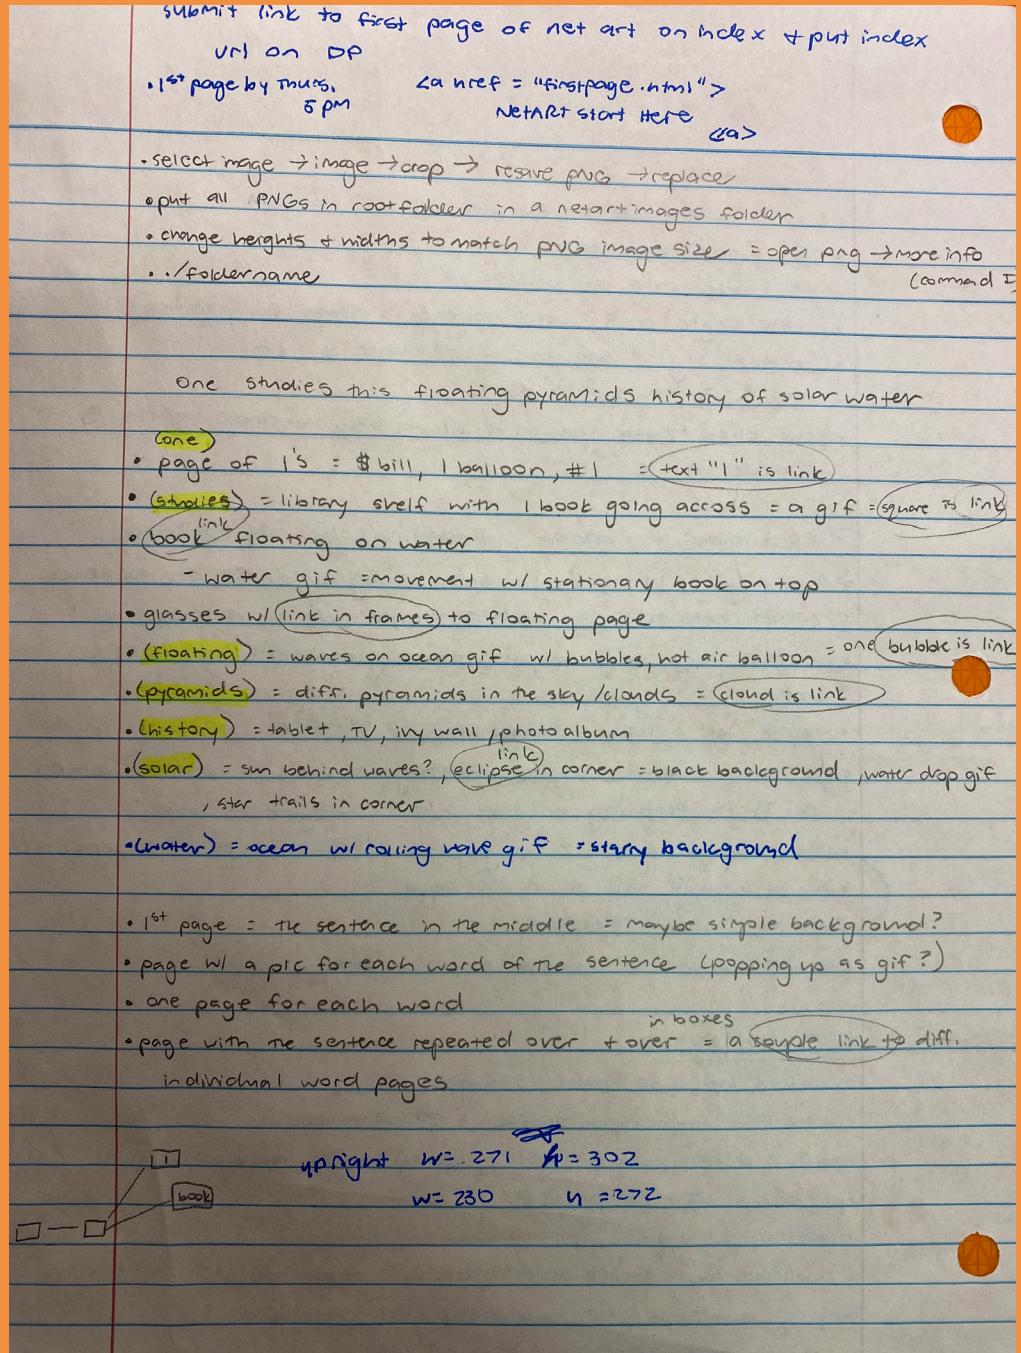

To form my sentence I took 25 words from four different articles. I then put the words into Google Sheets and used the random number generator, to generate a new sequence of words. Finally, after sifting through all 100 words I found my sentence, and then planned my project around it.

THE PROCESS

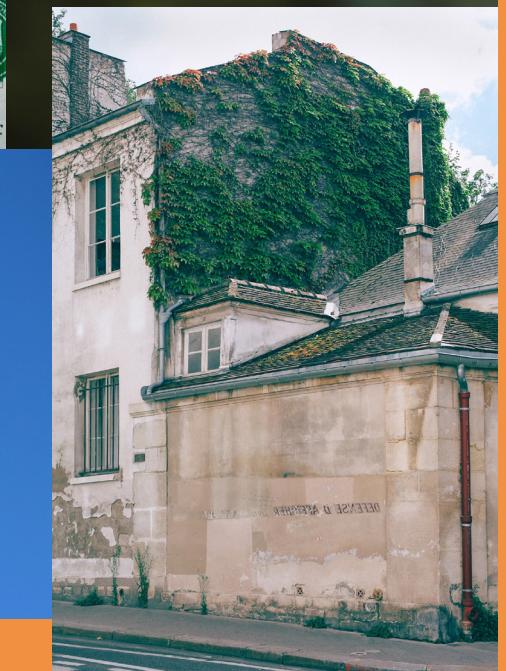

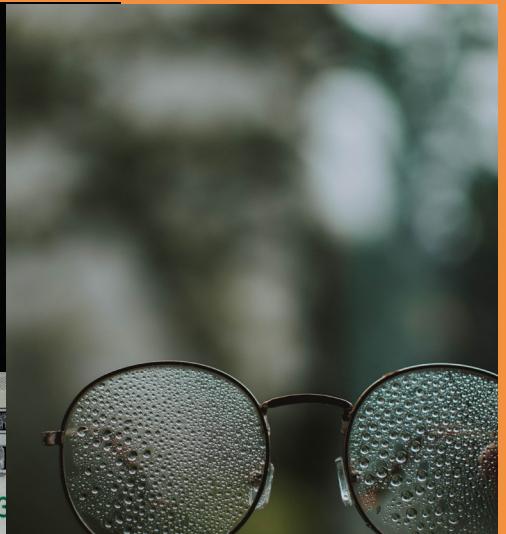

Here is some of the random planning / did before, and during the project.

Some Main Ideas:

- A crazy connection of pages
- Use numerous G/Fs
- Plan for extra pages

THE STATEMENT

I'll admit that at first this project seemed very overwhelming, but once I made a plan it got easier. Also, using Photoshop to create mockups of each page was super helpful. Given the craziness of this project's prompt, I wanted my pages to reflect this in the colors and images that are used, as well as the seemingly never-ending connection of pages that I created. I also wanted to incorporate minimal text to offset the images.
